

Beyond The Rainbow (SARIS - Beyond The Rainbow)

Verse 1

In my dreams the night before
I felt in fear to leave the harbor
Kept my head above these waters
I am a sailor heading to the north

Verse 2

Ice cold winds swept my heart away
And I will leave to see tomorrow
Only searching for an answer
I am a sailor heading to the north

Verse 3

All alone and lost at sea
The salt runs in my veins
Why should I fear this raging waters?
I am a sailor heading to the north

Bridge (instrumental)

Chorus

Still at home where I can see
The world through my eyes
The eyes of a child
And now it's time to cross the line
Sailing alone, but never lost

C-Part

I watch the moonlight on the water
Listening to the sirens' song
Time to leave the quiet waters
To find an Island never seen
Take me far away.... far away
We will ride across the lines
(And) the storm that has begun
Will control... my destiny...

D-Part (End)

The rain tears down from the canvas
Far from the shore where the rainbow begins
And though my heart is strong to fight for redemption
I am wondering why, why I should keep this course
No matter where I am
No matter where I go
