Time is Killing Me

Verse

I'm still there looking round for shattered pieces.
I still bare the burden of it all
In mid air I'm falling from the sky again over rocks and broken promises
Somethings will never set us free believing them instead of me.
the dye is cast and all that lasts is trapped inside a moment.

Chorus

Holding on can make you feel strong,
But when I'm killing time times killing me.
Trying to bare what never was fair
Is just filling time when times killing me.
Hunger gave me no choice, thunder silenced my voice.
All I am is a fan of the person I always pretended to be.

Verse

A new star, yes I could be a different person.
The old scars can never be erased.
Just how far do I dare to take this road knowing I might not get home again.
They always said there's just one chance in this galaxy's expanse.
So why do I, broken and shy feel trapped inside a moment.

Chorus

Holding on can make you feel strong,
But when I'm killing time times killing me.
Trying to bare what never was fair
Is just filling time when times killing me.
Hunger gave me no choice, thunder silenced my voice.
All I am is a fan of the person I always pretended to be.

Killing time, just killing time, when I'm killing time time's killing me.
Killing time, just killing time, when I'm killing time time's killing me.
Hunger gave me no choice, thunder silenced my voice.
All I am is a fan of the person I always pretended to be.
Killing time time's killing me.
Killing time time's killing me.
